

D score

≤ 0

....there exist insufficient resources needed to withstand demands of social, financial, and employment expectations, which in turn leads to excessive anxiety, loss of sleep, weight changes, skin eruptions, intense physical distress, tension, avoidance of others and an inability to withstand impending uncertainty, threat, and encounters with the unexpected.

Meloy 1997, p. 307