

Greene on Interpretation

Roger Green states, “...it is necessary...to review each interpretive statement and to determine its applicability to your particular client based on the client’s scores. The closer the client’s profile matches the best-fit prototypic profile, the more closely the default interpretive statements (Psychological Assessment Resources January 2010 catalog, p. 13) for the profile will describe the client.this necessitates editing of the interpretive text....”