

HARMONY, NEED FOR

Synonyms: conflict-avoidance, balance, stability, equilibrium, serenity

In order to feel content, she needs to be in an environment where there is low stress and little conflict.

He sincerely desires for everyone to be happy and trouble-free, and will go to great lengths to avoid situations where someone might get their feelings hurt.

You find conflict extremely destructive and so, as a defense, adapt yourself to the needs of the moment.

She has a very strong need for harmony in the work place, and she wants to be the one to bring it about.

Because he values harmony he does his best to create a serene backdrop against which his staff can produce their best efforts.

Her desire for the perfect relationship can make her too quick to give in. She cannot tolerate discord, and would rather switch than fight.

Even tempered, he likes to keep the environment on an even keel. The slightest hint of contention raises his anxiety level unbearably.

Teamwork in harmonious surroundings is a top priority for this manager.

Harmony and nature turn her on, so her office is likely to be filled with the sounds of music and green of plants.