

L

= .21-29

....thinking is dominated by emotionality more often than not.

....does not make effective use of their cognitive resources.

....does not complete what they start.

....subjective experiences are the primary source of their pleasures.

....picks and chooses those parts of their lives' confrontations that make them feel good.

....periodically engages in contemplation and reflection.

(Weiner 1998, pp. 108-109)