

“Or”

Response

The subject gives two or three responses at one time using “or” to separate them.

“A bat or a butterfly”

“A mountain or rather a large pointed hat”

This is a sign of insecurity in judgment, a fear of responsibility, or a fear of taking a definite stand.

(Bohm 1958, p. 111)