

Plate III

Posture M

Human Movement Response

A human viewed without overt movement.

Inhibition is a way of life, as is restraint, caution, and retreat. The intention is not to act in any manner be it assertive, compliant, or indecisive. No action occurs.

A deep seated avoidance of handling human interactions directly, frankly, and actively is a constant life style marker.

(Piotrowski 1979, p. 161)