

Clinical Scale Elevations

Scale 2 (Dep)

T-score 80-90

Elevations on the present Scale(s), taking race, gender, age, education, marital and employment status into consideration for the corresponding group's data, indicate any or all of these clinical features could be present in this person's behavior and history:

They are depressed, pessimistic, and deeply worried. They feel unworthy and inadequate. They could be silently angry and unable to admit it to themselves. A reactive depression could be present.